Having won a new contract, Richard needed 4 interim H&S Consultants to support his team on a 6 month government project. His client had specific technical needs, required national coverage and had a tight deadline to meet. Working closely with the Richard, we sourced and shortlisted candidates, conducted interviews and undertook compliance checks. Having successfully filled all 4 positions, the scope of the project was increased and the contracts were each extended by 6 months.

“We rarely use temporary staff but I must say that I was impressed with the quality of the H&S Consultants provided. I would not hesitate to recommend Bryan & Armstrong”

Rachel needed a temporary Health & Safety Manager to help prepare the organisation for the award of a major contract. She advertised the position directly, but found that whilst she received lots of applications, quality was lacking, so she contacted us for assistance. We identified a suitable candidate and following a telephone interview, a 3 month contract was offered and he started work the following week. Ben has since accepted Rachel's offer to join the company on a permanent basis.

“Ben really hit the ground running and over the past 4 months has become a valued member of the team – we are delighted that he's accepted our offer of a permanent job”

Keith urgently needed a temporary H&S Manager to look after a new-build project in Kent, as he was having serious problems with his sub-contractors and could not dedicate enough time to the site. On recommendation from his Director, Keith contacted us and asked us to find an H&S Manager with a strong construction background to start work as soon as possible. Mark was due to finish a similar contract for us on Friday, so we were able to arrange a working interview for Monday.

“I called Bryan & Armstrong on Friday, they got back to me within the hour and arranged for Mark to start work on Monday. Well done!”
